Language Lab

Navajyothi College has a well-furnished language lab adjacent to the department of English. This is used for enhancing English language skills. Various audio modules help the students to learn pronunciation and communication skills. The teacher in charge trains the students on assigned time.

Policies

Students and teachers can access the language lab during class hours in the teacher's presence.

Students who want to use the lab after class hours and on holidays should get permission from the principal and the teacher concerned. However, the teacher should be in the lab for training.

The users are requested to use the system correctly, and if any damage occurs, the person will be liable for the damage caused.
